

Southwest Aviation Weather Safety Workshop IV

At the Marriott Hotel in Albuquerque, NM

Join the National Weather Service (NWS) as we bring together the Southwest U.S. aviation and weather forecasting communities to promote aviation safety and productivity through improved weather awareness and forecasting services.

Aviator & Controller Weather Workshop

- October 25, 2011 – 8:00 am to 3:00 pm
- ZAB ARTCC Tour – 4:00 to 5:00 pm
- Topics: Weather hazard anticipation & safety, understanding new forecasts/tools, & more
- Presenters: NWS, Aviation Weather Center, FAA, USAF, AZ PA, Lockheed Martin AFSS & guests
- Earn up to 3 WINGS Pilot Proficiency Program credits
- Cost – Free! (Optional hot lunch buffet - $15)

Social Dinner

- October 25, 2011 – 6:00 to 8:30 pm
- Optional, casual gathering to build and further develop relationships among National Aerospace System partners & customers
- Romano's Macaroni Grill; walking distance from the Albuquerque Marriott

Aviation Weather Forecasting Workshop

- October 26, 2011 – 8:00 am to 4:00 pm
- Topics: GA, Airline & ATC needs; innovative decision support services; leveraging current & future technology; verification; & more
- Presenters: NWS, SWA, NetJets, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University & guests
- Cost – Free! (Optional hot lunch buffet - $15)

Online registration begins August 25th
For more information & accommodations, please monitor:

www.wrh.noaa.gov/psr/SAWS4/index.php